$250 REWARD.

RANAWAY, or stolen from Winnsborough, S. Carolina, on the 28th May, 1832, in the then possession of Wm. Beasley, a family of NEGROES, of the following description, viz: a negro man named Cato, raised by Wm. Wilson, of Sumter District, aged about 28 years, 5 feet 8 inches in height, dark complexion, full face, speaks generally in a low tone of voice, reads well, and may possibly write; a very plausible, polite and artful negro.—Also, his wife Milly, aged about 26 years, about 5 feet 4 inches in height, a very fat, stout woman at that time, has uniformly a pleasant countenance, is an excellent Cook and Seamstress; she was raised by Wm. Mills, of Sumter District. They took with them three children, viz: Carter, the eldest, a bright mulatto boy, aged about 7 years; second child, a girl named Caroline, aged about 4½ years; third, an infant boy when they absconded, named Elias It is possible that they may have, by this time, another child, being almost two years since they have been absent. I will give the above reward, or $75 each for the Fellow and Wench, and $33 33 for each of the Children, delivered in any gaol in this State. Should they have been stolen, I will give $400 on proof to conviction. There is but little doubt they were assisted in getting away from Winnsborough.

Monday, Nov. 11.

THE MOTHER'S FAREWELL TO HER WEDDED DAUGHTER.

Go, dearest one, my selfish love
Shall never pale thy cheek;
Not e'en a mother's fears for thee
Will I in sadness speak;
Yet how can I with coldness check
The burning tears that start?—
Hast thou not turned from me to dwell
Within another's heart?

I think on earlier, brighter days,
When first my lip was prest
Upon thy baby brow, whilst thou
Lay helpless on my breast;
In fancy still I see thine eye
Uplifted to my face,
I hear thy lisping tones, and mark
With joy thy childish grace.

E'en then I knew it would be thus;
I thought e'en in that hour,
Another would its perfume steal,
When I had reared the flower;
And yet I will not breath a sigh—
How can I dare repine?
The sorrow that thy mother feels
Was suffered once by mine.

A mother's love!—oh! thou know'st not
How much of feeling lies
In those sweet words; the hopes, the fears,
The daily strengthening ties;
It lives ere yet the infant draws
Its earliest vital breath,
And dies but when the mother's heart,
Chills in the grasp of death.

Will he in whose fond arms thou seek'st
Thine all of earthly bliss,
E'er feel a love untiring, deep,
And free from self as this?
Ah, no! a husband's tenderness
Thy gentle heart may prove;
But never, never wilt thou meet
Again a mother's love.

My love for thee must ever be
Fond as in years gone by;
While to thy heart I shall be like
A dream of memory.
Dearest, farewell, may angel hosts
Their vigils o'er thee keep,
How can I speak that fearful word,
"Farewell," and yet not weep?

FOR THE OBSERVER.

According to a previous appointment, a meeting was held at Antioch, in Robeson county on the 2d inst., for the purpose of forming a Temperance Society. Hugh McLaurin delivered an address on the subject, after which a goodly number subscribed. The Society was then organized in the following appointments:—

PETER MCEACHIN, President,
JAMES SMITH, Vice President,
HUGH MCLAURIN, Recording Secretary,
DAN. B. CURRIE, Corresponding Secretary.
ALEX'R GRAHAM, ARCH'D CURRIE, ARCH'D MCLEAN, DAN'L SMITH, NEILL SMITH, } Managers.

A Constitution was then adopted on the principle of total abstinence, after which the following Resolutions were entered into:

Res. 1*st.* That this society hold its annual meetings on the 25th day of December every year, and its semi-annual on the 4th day of July, and quarterly meetings on the last Saturdays in March and September, at each of which, an appropriate address is to be delivered by a person previously appointed.

Res. 2*nd.* That Malcolm C. Conoley, or, as an alternate, Daniel Currie address the Society on the 25th day of December next.

Res. 3*rd.* That Arch'd McLean, Arch'd Currie and John McLean, be a committee to solicit Hugh McLaurin for a copy of his address, for publication in the Fayetteville Observer and S. R. Telegraph, which was obtained.

Res 4*th.* That the Recording Secretary prepare an abstract of the proceedings of this meeting, for publication in the Fayetteville Observer and S. R. Telegraph. HUGH MCLAURIN, Rec Sec.

Fellow Citizens: The privilege of addressing you this day, on a very important subject, has devolved on me; and though to me it is a task, as I claim no pretensions to oratory, yet, if by the assertion of plain truths, free from all the borrowed charms of eloquence, I could convince the understanding of one temperate drinker, that there were danger in his course, and thereby cause him to forsake the error of his ways, it ought to be a pleasing task.

When I reflect on the many excellent publications on the subject, produced by the ablest men, of every profession, which must inevitably have fallen into your hands: when I reflect on the weighty motives of self-interest, patriotism, humanity, and piety, strongly urged on your consideration as being promoted by the cause of temperance; if you are yet unconcerned, if none of these inducements can move you: it might seem quite unavailing in so weak an organ as I am, to raise my voice. Hoping, however, that few or none of you are determined to remain willing subjects to a depraved appetite, against your own better judgment, and hoping that I might suggest something to strengthen you in a good resolution, these views, together with the importance of the subject, are my only apology for accepting the task of addressing you.

Admit we had a President that would attempt to tax the nation 50 or 60 millions of dollars yearly, over and above what were necessary to support the government, merely to satisfy his own selfish whims and tyrannical disposition, and more than that, were he to send menials and emissaries into each of your dwellings to create disturbances and family quarrels among you, how long would you suffer the tyrant to remain at the head of our government? I am persuaded that your republican blood boils with indignation, at the idea of tolerating the monster one moment on the throne! Yes, I know there are patriotic hearts, even here, that would travel on foot to Washington, and with the spirit of a Brutus, stab him to the heart.

Now, I would ask you, how long have we suffered? How long has the world suffered a more oppressive tyrant—the miscreant Intemperance? He took his rise about the beginning of the fifteenth century, in Arabia, the country of the great false prophet Mahomet, and though of much later origin than the prophet, yet his diabolical operations and injurious influence are far more extensive and ruinous! More treacherous than a Jesuit, insinuating itself into every family in the civilized world. And, like the poisonous Upas, spreading contagion and death throughout the wide extended atmosphere!

Do not republicans shew their aversion to tyranny in every shape? That noble, independent spirit which first made other despots tremble on their thrones, about six years ago, enlisted a small band against this monster, which, gathering number and strength, will not only destroy his dominion in our own happy republic, but they will tear him out root and branch from the whole world! My dear friends, whose pulse beats warm with the love of freedom and good government, will you not willingly enrol your names among this band?

Nor is the impoverishing and doleful effects of intemperance less shocking to humanity. Need I appeal for the proof of this assertion beyond the circle of your own observations? Have you not, with your own eyes, seen the amiable couple led to the hymenial altar by the attractive power of love, and there uniting their hearts, their hands, and their all, in the pleasant bonds of matrimony? Have you not seen them for a season, deriving no gratification from any enjoyment that did not contribute to their mutual happiness; seeming to enjoy a paradise below, until the serpent-like fiend Intemperance intruded. How do you now find the lovely pair? How do you find him, whose chief delight on earth was fed by the smiles of a dear companion and the artless innocence of a caressed infant? In proportion as this monster infuses his loathsome venom into his heart, so you find him become less and less fond of those innocent endearments which alone are the springs of true happiness. How is he changed! how is he fallen! His domestic concerns, his farm, his fireside have no more pleasures for him; and that voice which, in his better-half, used to awaken all the sweet energies of her soul, is now become more terrible and appalling to her than the midnight howlings of a wolf. See him wallowing in the mire and his own filth; view that once lovely countenance that used to wear the smile of welcome to his return, now bathed in tears or settled down in gloomy despair.—See the dear little innocents, once the sweet pledges of mutual love! Hear them crying for bread and clothes to cover their little naked bodies. Oh ye sons of humanity, can you view such scenes without having your hearts melted into tears within you with compassion for the wretched and unhappy victims; and without an utter abhorrence of that monster that reduced them to such a state? Come then join the lovely band that are determined to exterminate him.

My dear fellow professors of Christianity, what shall I say to you? I would fain hope there are none such under my voice, who have not already enlisted in the cause of Temperance, or who are not now fully determined to do it. But should there be, what can I say to you? Only remind you of what is laid down in "our precious guide," inspired by the spirit of "the Capt. Gen'l. of our Salvation," under whose banner you profess to have enlisted and whose commands you profess to obey. "Look not on the wine when it is red, when it giveth its colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright, at the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." St. Peter speaking of the graces which characterise a true christian says, "add unto faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, charity." "When Paul reasoned on Righteousness, Temperance and Judgment to come," an avaricious "Felix trembled." "Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolators, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners shall inherit the kingdom of God." "They that be drunken are drunken in the night, but let us who are of the day be sober." Esau like the drunkard sells his birthright for savoury draughts of spirits. Finally, "if meat cause a brother to offend I will not eat flesh while the world standeth." The great apostle was willing to abstain from a necessary article of food, rather than cause a weak brother to offend. Will you not all so far imitate his example, as to abstain from an unnecessary article, that has caused millions to offend? Plead not the example of our fathers, "for at the ignorance of those times God winked at, but now commandeth all men every where to repent." H. MCLAURIN.

Native Breeds of Cattle.—On reading the following report of the Committee of the Massachusetts Agricultural Society on milch cows exhibited at the Brighton Fair, on the 16th ult., our readers will perceive that attention and care given to our native stock will be rewarded.

The Committee appointed to award premiums on the milch cows, heifers, bulls, and bull calves, have attended to the duty assigned them, and report as follows:

The first premium, to Mr. John Leathe, of Wodburn, for his cow, 5 years old, $25.

The second premium, to Mr. Luther Chamberlain, of Westborough, for his cow, 12 years old, $15.

The third premium, to Mr. Jacob W. Watson, of Princeton, for his cow, 7 years old, $10.

Mr. Leathe produced to the Committee a well attested certificate that his cow had given, for the months of June and July last, not less, at any time, than twenty-four quarts of milk per day, and that fourteen pounds thirteen ounces and a half of excellent butter had been made from her milk in one week. She was sold for $100.

Mr. Chamberlain also stated, in writing, that his cow was remarkable for giving milk of very superior quality; that she gave from the 10th of June to the 20th, from nineteen to twenty quarts of milk per day, and from her milk during the ten days were made seventeen pounds of butter and thirty pounds of cheese; that the quantity of milk was reduced considerably from the 10th to the 20th of September, owing to the dry weather, and particularly to the want of a regular supply of good water; that for six months past the cow has actually produced him ninety-four dollars twenty-two cents, including eight dollars forty-two cents, for which sum the calf was sold, and fatted on little more than half the milk she gave.

Mr. Watson also furnished a certificate, to which he made oath that his cow gave from the 10th to the 20th of June from twenty to twenty-one quarts of milk per day, from which was made seventeen pounds of butter for ten days; from the 10th to the 20th of September she gave from sixteen to seventeen quarts of milk per day, and thirteen pounds of butter were made from the milk she gave during the ten days. The three cows were native breed, and had only grass feed during the time stated in the certificates.

Potatoes manured with Pine Boughs.—A farmer in New Jersey relates to us the following experiment: Having a large number of young pine trees growing near his potato grounds, he gathered a sufficient quantity of the boughs to form a considerable covering to a row of potatoes which he was planting in drills. In the drill on one side of this he used lime for manure, and in the one on the other he put in marl. They were all covered with earth in the same manner, and received the same culture. On digging them, those that were manured with the pine were twice as large as the others, and double in quantity.

Planters in the Southern States estimate pine leaves, gathered early, as among the best of manures.—Rail Road Journal.

WILMINGTON CONVENTION.

The Convention met agreeably to appointment, in the Presbyterian Church, on Thursday the 31st of October, at 11 A. M. Gov. Swain was unanimously called to the chair, and William F. Strange, of Fayetteville, and William C. Lord of this place appointed Secretaries. Eight counties were represented, to wit, Columbus, Cumberland, Sampson, Bladen, Brunswick, Duplin, Wake, and New-Hanover.

The following resolutions were presented by Joseph A. Hill, and on motion of William H. Haywood, of Raleigh, referred to a committee composed of one member from each county, selected by the chair, viz—

Wake—William H. Haywood.
New-Hanover—Joseph A. Hill.
Cumberland—R. Strange.
Columbus—A. Troy.
Bladen—William Jones.
Sampson—William Ashford.
Brunswick—F. N. Waddell.
Duplin—James Lawson.

Who reported in favor of the Resolutions, whereupon the question was taken upon each separately, and unanimously adopted.

Whereas, in the opinion of this Convention, the Progress of improvement in the State of North Carolina has been retarded and her general prosperity greatly impaired, by reason of the distractions which have hitherto prevailed in her public councils, arising from local prejudices, party divisions and sectional jealousies; and whereas, nothing effectual or worthy of the State can be accomplished without harmony of feeling and concert of action, among her citizens, therefore.

Resolved, That while each section of the State should prosecute with vigor such schemes of Internal Improvement as are likely to promote its immediate interests, yet these plans should be pursued as subsidiary to the great policy of State Improvement.

Resolved, That the Delegates to the General Convention, and the members of the Legislature, about to assemble in Raleigh, ought not to meet pledged to any specific plans of Improvement, but in a spirit of compromise and concession, and of liberal and enlightened patriotism, each ready to surrender his individual views to public opinion, and all prepared to sacrifice partial interest upon the altar of public good.

Resolved, That we look to the wisdom of the Legislature to provide a system of Internal Improvement, which shall be commensurate with the wants of the people and worthy the character of the State.

Resolved, That the resources of the State are fully adequate to such an undertaking, and that the Legislature ought to provide, at the common charge, the means of accomplishing the same, and of affording effectual aid to the enterprise of her citizens.

On motion of A. MacRae, the Convention adjourned to meet at St. John's Lodge, at half past 3 o'clock, P. M. where refreshments were provided, and a number of citizens joined the festival. The Convention adjourned, to meet at the call of the Chair.

In compliance with notice from the Chair, the Convention again assembled at the Presbyterian Church, on the 2d inst. at half past 3 o'clock P. M. where Delegates from all the above named counties assembled, and being called to order, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the members of the Presbyterian Church, for politely tendering their building for their use.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Visitors and Delegates from the adjoining Counties, be presented to the Citizens and Delegates from Wilmington, for the kindness, attention and liberality, which has been shown to them during their sojourn among them.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the Secretaries for their services.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to Messrs. Potter and Holmes, of Smithville, and Capt. G. Blaney, of the U. S. Engineers, for the use of their Steam Boats, on the excusion to Smithville and Oak Island.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the Chairman, for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of this body, and for his patriotic views of the great work of Internal Improvement.

On the unanimous adoption of the 5th Resolution, the Chairman rose and addressed the meeting, and adjourned the Convention, sine die.

W. C. LORD, Secretary.

Wilmington, N. C. Nov. 2d, 1833.

FROM THE RALEIGH REGISTER.

A few more Signs of North Carolina Prosperity.

1. The Swamp Lands of the state, in the East, are fertile as the valleys of the Mississippi, and might be drained with ease at a trifling expense; but our [Statesmen?] will not attempt it—nor will they allow others to become owners of these lands who would drain them.—The fable of the Dog in the Manger seems to have been forgotten in this State.

2. Hyde County is covered with Swamps—Her soil is rich as mud. One year's saving by a diminished Legislature, would drain 50,000 acres of her exhausted soil, and when drained, it would sell for 200,000 dollars; but then, will the Members from Hyde vote to change our Constitution? They have not done it for 20 years; and in that period, these stagnate ponds have killed people enough by bilious fevers to out vote the county. Yet alas, dead men cannot vote. "Ex uno, disce omnes."

3. A spirit of improvement is come upon us. Every man seems to be alive to it. All agree that we must do one thing at a time, while every one has a plan of his own, and he goes "for his own scheme, the whole of his own scheme, and nothing but his own scheme."

4. One man is sure that the Virginia rule is the best of all in the Improvement of the State, viz: 3-5ths by individuals and the residue by the State. No! says another, with as much confidence, the State must have no partners—she ought to do public work herself alone. I agree with you entirely, says a third, with a trifling exception, in this: that the State ought to take no lot or part in the business, for I think Corporations are the things! Phœbus! says my friend——, the very idea is distressing. What? Corporations to be clothed with such powers and such privileges!!

5. But again, says one man—we ought to build a Central Rail Road first. No! rejoins another, the Yadkin Rail Road should be built first. Not so, say others, the first Road should be a continuation of the Petersburg Road on the North side of the State up to the West. You and I go half way together, replies another, I am for the Virginia Road first, but then it ought to go directly across the State of North Carolina via Raleigh to Fayetteville. Then come forth the claims of the Norfolk Road via Smithfield to Fayetteville—the Milton plan of a Road to connect the Roanoke Navigation with the Narrows, &c. &c. All! All! All! are to be built first.

6. Taking the whole State into view, the people of each county, upon an average, pay 20,000 dollars per year for the carriage of their crop to market and for the goods bought with their produce and consumed by themselves. There being 64 counties, this shews that the annual indirect tax paid by the farming interest is $1,280,000!! And yet our big folks in county politics talk to the dear people, and alarm them most unreasonably, about paying taxes to improve the State. We don't care to pay one day a dollar, that we may save $100 being taken out of our pockets the next. What superlative foresight!

Messrs. Editors, what is all of this to end in? Can you tell me of any signs which indicate a spirit of conciliation from which we may entertain hopes of reviving the dying energies of the State.

Q in the Corner.

Appalling Picture.—The following letter from New Orleans, published in the Northern papers, furnishes a gloomy account of the way in which things are managed in that city.

"To be taken sick in New Orleans is, I may say, to die. Your chance of escape is one to five; and in that situation I place myself. The difficulty of getting a good nurse renders the sick man's situation truly horrible; confined, as is frequently the case, in a small close room, a calomel Doctor calling every hour or so, and ordering you at each visit thirty or forty grains,—fever raging—reason itself gone, there you lie, with fifty leeches on your temples, at one dollar a piece! a black assassinating looking nurse grinning at your bedside, and wishing you out of the world, (though getting Ten dollars a day!!) so that she may steal what little money you have and clear out. In the room next to that in which I lay, a young man who had been bled, in the morning, during a paroxysm of fever tore off the bandage, and with the blood spouting from his arm, alarmed the nurse, who ran down stairs for help. Ere she returned he fainted; on the next day he died. A short time previous to his death, I heard him praying, nay begging for a glass of water; but as he was swelled up with calomel, and water was prohibited, he died—without it!

Of the Physicians of New Orleans, take them generally, each one has a different mode of practice; we have the Tearan Doctors, the Steam Doctors, the Calomel and the Anti-Calomel Doctors; and among them, somehow or another, nearly all die. This is a lamentable fact, too well known here to create any surprise by its announcement. I have had some little opportunities of seeing something of their mode of administering medicine, and added to a callous sense of humanity, they seem more like demons than administering angels. Battling thus with Death and the Doctors, the poor suffering patient at last yields up his spirit without a sigh. Then comes the Court of Probates to settle up his affairs. I can better illustrate this nefarious institution, founded upon corrupt principles, by a circumstance which fell under my own notice. A gentleman died—and was buried—all the money he had ($300) was in Bank—the bills of expense came pouring in upon his widow—she went to the Bank—the Cashier sent her to the Court of Probates; to this part of the business I attended myself,—first to employ a lawyer, then to take out letters of administration; after the expiration of ten days, those of curatorship. Then the appointment of a lawyer to represent absent heirs, when they were told, there were none. This fee was to be paid. Then to pay two appraisers of the furniture. Then to pay the notary, for taking the inventory. Then the Register office—and last, though not least—the Court of Probates itself! Mr. Editor, I will not enumerate the cost, nor name the sum the widow had to pay, to get the $300 out of Bank. I will merely add, it left her destitute!! You will ask, is this the way we do business here! I answer, yes!"

Cotton seed Oil.—A writer in the Southern Banner, after speaking of the improved machine for hulling the seed, invented by L. Johnson, Esq. of Madison, Ga. thus estimates, rather highly, the benefits of Cotton seed Oil:

It remains to show the immense advantage which is in store for this country, from this at present unimproved resource. The cotton crop of Georgia, for instance, is 250,000 bales, which, at the usual price obtained is equal to 6,000,000 dollars.—In the seed this crop weighs three hundred millions, and takes about 600,000 acres to produce it. The fibres when taken off being one-fourth of the weight, leave two hundred and twenty-five millions of pounds of seed, which, at thirty weight to the bushel, leaves in bushels, 7,500,000. From this quantity subtract one million and a half, necessary to plant 600,000 acres, and there will then be a balance of six millions, equal to three millions of gallons of oil, or three millions of dollars, half the value of the cotton crop—one which is such a vast source of wealth to the people of Georgia. This is exclusive too of the cake, worth seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars more.

The United States Gazette says that "Mr. Hulme, near La Grange, in Fayette county, Tennessee, has raised this present year, on 155 acres of land, with fourteen hands, about sixty-two thousand five hundred pounds of clean cotton, and has sold the same at the gin for 16 cents per pound." If this statement is true, the Tennessee planter has realized the snug sum of ten thousand dollars for his crop.

American Newspapers.—No newspaper appeared in the colonies until 1704, when the News Letter was issued at Boston, and continued till 1776. The first paper published in Philadelphia was issued in 1719, and the first in New York, in 1733. In 1775, there were 37; in 1801, there were 203; in 1810, 358; and at present, probably not less than 1200.—A General View.

FROM THE GREENSBOROUGH PATRIOT.

Hanner vs. Woodburn.—At the last term of Guilford Superior Court, a case somewhat novel in the history of our jurisprudence, came on for hearing. Our readers will bear in mind, that, at May Term of the County Court for this County, held in 1832, Alfred E. Hanner was elected Clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, under what is familiarly known by the name of the "four year law;" and entered into bond and security at that Court, for the faithful discharge of the duties of the office to which he had been chosen, for the said term of four years. At the following session of the legislature, an act was passed, providing, that all the offices of the County and Superior Court Clerks should be filled by a vote of the people of the State, at the August election then succeeding.

Col. Alfred E. Hanner and Watson W. Woodburn became candidates for the office of County Court Clerk, in this County, and the result was, that Woodburn was elected by a considerable majority. On Monday of the August Court following, a minority of the Magistrates proceeded to take the bonds of Mr. Woodburn and instal him into office, by a peremptory order upon Hanner to surrender up the books and papers of the office. To this course of proceeding, Hanner, by his counsel, William A. Graham, objected, on the grounds, first, that the law under which the election was made, so far as it affected those already in office, was unconstitutional, and therefore void; and secondly, that even if the law were constitutional, a less number than a majority of all the Justices in the County, could not, lawfully, receive the bonds and qualify the Clerk elect. These objections, however, were overruled by the County Court.

Subsequent to that time, a notice was served on Mr. Woodburn, by Mr. Hanner, that application would be made to the then, next Superior Court, for a rule on him (Woodburn) to show cause why an information in the nature of a writ of quo warranto, should not issue, calling upon him to show by what authority he now discharges the duties and receives the emoluments of the office of County Court Clerk.

Accordingly, at our Superior Court which was held week before last, the motion for such a rule was made, by Mr. Graham, on Wednesday morning. His honour Judge Donnell remarked, that the question was one on which he had reflected a good deal, and had already matured his own mind, so far as the general question was concerned; and that he was only solicitous to put the matter in such a shape, as that it might be acted upon efficiently; and ample justice done to the parties. He then informed Mr. Graham for the applicant, and Mr. Nash for the defendant, that the question would be taken up on Friday morning.

The time arrived, and Mr. Graham argued the case ably, for the applicant, principally in favour of proceeding by information in the nature of a writ of quo warranto; he expressed himself, however, as not having clearly determined, in his own mind, whether the quo warranto, or the mandamus, would be the proper method of proceeding. The Judge suggested, as his conviction, that the most effectual way of proceeding, would be by mandamus. Mr. Nash remarked, that he felt unprepared to go into the argument at that time, as he had attended to the subject, solely with a view to the writ of quo warranto. Therefore the further consideration of the subject was laid over until Saturday morning, at nine o'clock; when Mr. Nash for the defendant, made an able speech, to which Mr. Graham briefly replied; and the case was submitted to the Court—A brief opinion was given by the Judge, on the constitutional question, and a rule made, on the justices of the County Court to show cause why a mandamus shall not issue against them, compelling them to restore Col. Hanner to the office of County Court Clerk. Here rests the matter at this time; but where it will terminate, time alone can disclose.

Internal Navigation.—We are credibly informed that the Delaware and Raritan Canal, running from New Brunswick to Bordentown, will be opened for Navigation the ensuing Spring. When this is done, not only will sloops be able to ply between this city and Philadelphia by going half the distance which they are obliged to go at present, but many run from Stonington, Connecticut, to the interior of North Carolina, without once entering the open sea.—The course will be through Long Island Sound and the harbour and bay of N. York and Princess Bay to New Brunswick; thence through the Delaware and Raritan Canal, about 30 miles to the Delaware river; down the Delaware to Delaware city; thence through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, 13½ miles, to the head of Chesapeake Bay; down Chesapeake Bay to Norfolk; thence through the Dismal Swamp Canal to the interior of North Carolina.

Cotton Manufactories.—There appears in the National Intelligencer, the two first numbers of a series of Essays on the advantages which would be derived by the Southern States from the establishment of Cotton Manufactories. The writer, who is evidently a practical man, shows conclusively, that from having the raw material on the spot, an abundance of water power, or, if steam be preferred, of fuel, and cheaper labor, Manufactories might be conducted more profitably in the South than elsewhere.

Sleeping Preacher.—A little girl of eleven or twelve years of age has created some talk among the people of New Haven for several weeks, on account of her propensity to sermonize in her sleep. Dr. Griffith has taken an opportunity to be present at one of her lectures and publishes the particulars in detail. Her language of exhortation is really astonishing for one so young, and the curious would like to know if she exhibits as much power of mind when awake. After closing her sermon she repeated a hymn, and reclined, appearing utterly exhausted and remained quiet till, as she appeared to suppose, the hymn was sung. She then rose and pronounced the benediction in a deeply impressive manner.

Soon after she closed, she awoke with a kind of convulsion; and was very much surprised to find so many persons around her, and wished to know the cause; and when told there had been a meeting, she was much grieved and mortified that she should have been asleep all the time.—She has been kept ignorant of the fact that she herself was the preacher.—Boston Trav.

A farm, one mile from Norristown, Pa. of 145 acres, was sold on the 17th instant, at public sale, for $152 per acre, or $22,040. The purchasers would not take $5,000 advance for their bargain, says the Herald. It must be valuable land to warrant such a price.

From the Mobile (Ala.) Com. Register.

The Branch of the United States Bank in this city, was established in 1826. During the last year, the current discounts notes payable at the Bank, has amounted an average to more than a million of dollars —and the Bills of Exchange purchased that period are nearly five millions. This will give some idea of the amount of business which is transacted at the Mobile Branch. Now we are authorized to say that of the Bills of Exchange, only $140,000 are now running to maturity—are unpaid,—that from the establishment of the Branch in 1826 to this day, its losses have not been one cent; and that of its outstanding debts, not one is considered bad or even doubtful. Its suspended debt of $1,700. The truth is, solvency and sound credit of the Merchants of Mobile, entitle them to compare advantageously with the commercial character of any city in the Union.

The Superior Court for this county is now in session—Judge Strange presiding.

A writer in a late Richmond Enquirer proposes that a Committee of the ensuing Congress be appointed to wait on the President of the United States, and obtain from him a plan of such a Bank as he would sanction. It will be recollected that in the celebrated Veto Message, it was made a subject of complaint, that the Executive had not been consulted in regard to the provisions of the Bill to recharter the Bank, and that he would cheerfully have furnished the outlines of such a Bill as would have met his approbation. We hope he will now be taken at his word. The U. S. Bank is too valuable an institution to be sacrificed without making every effort to save it.

Improvement.—We believe it was at the last session of Congress that an appropriation was made for removing what is called the raft of Red River, in Louisiana, a collection of logs, sand, &c. the accumulated deposite of centuries, which completely obstructed the navigation of that river for a distance of 139 miles. With the aid of two snag boats, Capt. Shreve, the superintendent, has, in one season, removed seventy-five miles of the raft, and rendered the river navigable for that distance. This is certainly a wise application of the means of the Nation.

The Jackson party in New York city have had a row, and have separated, after nominating two Tickets for the State Legislature. One of the Tickets is composed of the "whole hog" party, and the other of the liberals. The split took place at a large meeting in Tammany Hall, amidst fighting and hallooing. When order was partially restored, one division placed a Chairman at the head of the room, and the other organized at the foot.

Peter V. Daniel, Esq., of Richmond, has declined the office of Attorney General, tendered to him by the President. It is the third office which he has refused.

The Alabama Affair.—Francis S. Key, Esq., the U. S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, passed through this place last week, on his way to Alabama, as commissioner for the settlement of the difficulties with that state.

The Richmond Enquirer publishes the following extract of a letter from the Secretary of War to Major McIntosh, Commander of the U. S. troops at Fort Mitchell. It does credit to the Administration, and we record it with great pleasure.

Extract of a Letter from the Secretary of War to Maj. J. S. McIntosh, dated October 29th, 1833

"Sir—Your letter of the 21st instant to Major General Macomb has been laid before me—and, in answer, I have to inform you, that you will interpose no obstacle to the service of legal process upon any officer or soldier under your command, whether issuing from the Courts of the State of Alabama, or of the United States: On the contrary, you will give all necessary facilities to the execution of such process.

"It is not the intention of the President, that any part of the military force of the United States should be brought into collision with the civil authority. In all questions of jurisdiction, it is the duty of the former to submit to the latter, and no considerations must interfere with that duty.

"If, therefore, an officer of the State or of the United States come with legal process against yourself, or an officer or soldier of your garrison, you will freely admit him within your post, and allow him to execute his writ undisturbed."

We are sorry to see that the Editor of the Rail Road Journal contemplates a discontinuance of its publication unless additional patronage is speedily extended. It is a valuable work, and would be a desirable one to any advocate of Internal Improvements in North Carolina. It will give us pleasure to forward the names of subscribers.

Rail Road Journal.—In order to meet the wishes of several gentlemen, who are friendly to the Journal, and desirous to obtain it in a more convenient form than in weekly numbers, residing remote from any agent for the work, through whom it can be obtained in bound volumes—I have concluded to put up the past and current volumes in four parts to the year, or thirteen numbers each, stitched in a cover of colored paper, which may be forwarded by mail to any part of the Union, on the same terms as ordinary magazines; or 1½ cent a sheet for under, and 2½ cents a sheet of 16 pages, for any distance over 100 miles. By this arrangement the work may be obtained in any part of the country, by mail, in a convenient form for preservation, at a trifling expense of postage.

Gold Miners' Bills.—Bills of exchange drawn on the House of James Hamilton & Son, by the Gold Mining Company of Burke, consisting of Robards Turner, Robert Hamilton and P. Hamilton, and payable at the Chemical Bank at New York, have been put into circulation in the Western part of the State, and from the known wealth and integrity of the Company in the great dearth of State money, are answering a great public convenience. We for our part, will be very thankful to our Subscribers to send us some of them, the more the better. We should think they would answer a very valuable purpose to merchants trading to New York.—Salisbury Watchman.

We understand that the Governor has appointed Dr. Linn as U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Col. Buckner. This appointment is probably as judicious a one as the Governor could make from his own party—and we presume that it will give general satisfaction.

Missouri Intell.

Internal Improvement Convention.—Although this body at its last meeting in this Town, to avoid the appearance of division forbore to give preference to any particular plan for improving our State, and generally referred these matters to the General Convention to meet in Raleigh on the 4th Monday in this month—yet we are assured that among the delegates present, there was almost a unanimous concentration of sentiment in favor of the Yadkin and Cape Fear Rail Road. With some few it was regarded secondary to the scheme of uniting the Cape Fear and Roanoke, but we believe there was none that did not look upon it as deserving the patronage of the State, and the support of individuals in an eminent degree. We believe that these two interests begin to be regarded as the leading ones in the Western part of the State, and likely to effect more for the character and prosperity of N. Carolina than any others that will be urged upon the Legislature.

Salisbury Watchman.

State Convention.—Delegates have been appointed in Halifax, Chowan, Randolph and Brunswick to represent those counties in the Internal Improvement Convention to be held in this city on the 4th Monday of this month.—Raleigh Star.

FROM THE BALTIMORE PATRIOT OF THURSDAY.

"There is something rotten in Denmark."—A day or two since we published a paragraph from the Virginia Political Arena, relative to the pecuniary condition of the General Post Office. That paper of yesterday adds the following significant paragraph:

The rumors in relation to the Post Office Department begin to assume a definite form. The District papers are silent on the subject; but from various sources we learn, that the insolvency of the establishment is the prevailing topic of conversation in the city. The deficiency is variously estimated."

The reference in this last paragraph to "the District papers," makes it necessary for us, in order to avoid the charge of affectation, to break silence on this subject so far as to say, that we have for some time heard rumors on the subject of the financial condition of the Post Office, which did not in the least surprise us, because we foresaw and predicted it four years ago, as the consequence of the inexperience of the persons appointed at the outset of the present Administration, to succeed the well-tried, faithful, and capable agents who had so long successfully administered the affairs of that Department. We believe that a deficit may have occurred in the Ways and Means of that establishment, without any impeachment of the integrity of the Officers at the head of it, beyond their having concealed it from the knowledge of Congress, if they were themselves aware of it. After the rumors which have been circulated, it cannot be doubted that the subject will be fully examined at the approaching Session of Congress. It cannot be long, therefore, before all doubt on the subject will be cleared up. We really hope that the amount of deficiency in the funds of the Department will be found to have been overrated by public report, and that, whatever it may be, it will be found not to have been caused by a reckless use of them in rewarding political friends.

National Intelligencer.

The lowest estimate of the deficiency is stated in the Northern papers to be a hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars.

We learn that the Branch Bank of the U. States on Saturday, reduced their rate of purchase of Bills on the North ¼ per cent., and now charge ½ per cent. discount, with time to run instead of ¾ per cent. the recent rate.—Charleston Courier.

When the old United States Bank charter expired, the consequences were severely felt throughout the whole country. The United States government alone lost, by using local banks as places of deposite, upwards of one million three hundred and ninety thousand dollars.—Philadelphia Int.

FROM MR. NOAH'S "EVENING STAR," OF NOV. 2.

We understand that the Deposite Banks are determined to charge seven per cent. interest for notes over sixty days. Thus the people's money in those banks is made an instrument to increase the amount of interest, which they are compelled to pay.

Tender Mercies of the Deposite Banks.—The Manhattan Company, a particular favorite, whose capital is mostly owned in Great Britain, has called upon the local Banks for two hundred thousand dollars in specie. Thus the people's money is to be used to create a scarcity.

Nathaniel Macon.—The Richmond Compiler says:—The venerable Nathaniel Macon, is as active now that he has lived some three score and ten years, as when scarce thirty summers had passed over his head. We understand that during the last season he was in at the death of some sixty foxes.

Rhode Island.—The Legislature of this State was last week in session, and a very curious proceeding has occurred there. At a previous session, Mr. Robbins, the then Senator in Congress, whose term expired on the 4th of March last, was re-elected. Objections were made at the time, to the election, as contrary to some State law, and resolutions to that effect were offered, but they were overruled. Parties however, having since changed, Mr. E. R. Potter called up the resolutions offered by him at the former session, and after two days' debate, they were adopted on Thursday last, by a vote of 43 to 27, declaring the previous election void. On Friday, as we learn from the Newport Mercury of Saturday, the two houses went into joint meeting and elected without opposition the aforesaid Mr. Potter Senator in Congress. The friends of Mr. Robbins offered a protest against the proceeding, which they desired to have entered upon the journals; but that was refused, and it was laid on the table.

Both parties—each having we presume, received a certificate of election—will present themselves in Washington, and the Senate, which is the sole judge of the qualification of its members, must determine who is the true Senator.—N. Y. American.

One of the thousand dollar notes that was obtained from the Western bank of Philadelphia some time since, by means of a forged check, was presented at their counter a day or two ago by a respectable person, who received it from a gentleman, in this city. It is said that payment was refused, but we rather think that will be a question for the lawyers. It has probably since it was passed off by the forger, gone through four or five honest men's hands, who were not aware of its history, and it would indeed be a hard case if they were saddled with the loss.—New York Standard.

The Alabama Journal of the 2d inst. is filled with documents appertaining to the present controversy of that State with the General Government. They furnish us, in part, with the proceedings of the Court in the case of Owens, and also with the letter of Judge Harris, of Russell county, addressed to Gov. Gayle. This letter, together with sundry documents, establishing the fact of the process of the Court having been set at defiance by the commanding officer at Fort Mitchell, have been forwarded by the Governor to the Secretary of War, to be submitted to the President, whose determination on the subject the Secretary is requested to advise Gov. Gayle of at the earliest period. Of course no little curiosity will be felt to learn the "determination" of the President.

The Mobile Commercial Advertiser of October 25, furnishes the following satisfactory information:

"The report from a Columbus paper, that the troops at Fort Mitchell were to march immediately to expel the whites from the Creek territory, cannot be well founded.—The troops are directed to aid the Marshal in his duties, and that officer has given public notice that the settlers will not be disturbed before the 15th of January. In the mean time we cannot but indulge the hope, that the difficulties may, in some manner, be adjusted."

A Novel Presentment.—The grand Jury of Madison county have presented Governor Gayle for a Nullifier. They have also furnished the public with a definition of Nullification. It is "opposition to the General Government, and more especially to the administration of General Jackson." And that all may understand the subject the better, it is pretty clearly intimated that the President is the Government, and the Secretary of War, with his Marshals, Majors and Soldiers, are but the minuter members of this great body politic; so that opposition to the acts of any of these is Nullification. It is fortunate that this political mystery which has puzzled so many wise heads has been defined at last.—Alabama Int.

Willaim Gaston, of North Carolina, arrived in town last evening, from the South, by the Rail Road Line.—N. Y. American.

Norfolk, Nov. 4.

Fire!—After a period of more than six years since the last fire of any magnitude in our Borough, we were, on Saturday morning, visited with a conflagration which has swept off the entire range of old combustible buildings on the South side of Main Street, from Marden's Lane (opposite Johnson's Hotel,) westward, a distance of about 225 feet, leaving a prodigious gap in one of the busiest parts of the town. The fire broke out in the work shop of Mr. John Roberts, tin plate worker and brass founder, in nearly the centre of the range of buildings destroyed, about 1 o'clock, A. M. but whether by accident, or the hand of an incendiary, is uncertain, as Mr. R. states that he had no fire in the shop during the day, except what was in a common sheet iron stove, which was carefully extinguished at night. The destruction of the buildings, which were of little value, we should consider as a public benefit, if it was unconnected with the distress which it has occasioned to the tenants, most of whom are industrious mechanics and store-keepers in very moderate circumstances, who have been thereby deprived of a home for their families, or a suitable place for their business, at a time, too, when there is scarcely a vacant tenement to be had for either purpose; and at a season unfavorable for the erection of new ones.—Herald.

Dreadful Affair.—The Washington (Geo.) News says, "We learned a few days since, by a gentleman who had passed through Monticello, Geo., that a most flagrant murder was committed in that place, on Tuesday night, the 18th inst., on the body of a Mr. Rose, by Augustus Glover. Some misunderstanding had existed, we understand, between the parties previous to the event.—Rose had accompanied some ladies to the theatre, and had scarcely seated himself when the attack was made upon him. He made some effort to defend himself, but was suddenly shot down. The ball, it was thought, went directly through his heart.—He died instantly. Both of these men, so far as we have heard, were quite respectable. We have not yet heard further particulars."

Child smothered.—One of our packet masters, who arrived within a few days, states that a poor ignorant Swiss mother, at Havre, placed her son, a lad of about three years of age, in a box which she brought on board his vessel among her baggage, under the false notion that she could in this way smuggle her child on board, and save paying its passage. After bringing the box on board and secretly opening it, she found to her astonishment, that the child was dead. She appeared to be in great distress. There was no doubt the child was smothered by placing it in a situation in which the air was excluded.—N. Y. D. Advertiser.

Freaks of Nature.—We have seen a specimen of the freaks of nature, in two fishes, resembling catfish, which are joined together at the abdomen, from the head down about half an inch, a counterpart, so far as descriptions enlighten us, of the junction of the Siamese Twins. One of the fishes is about three and the other two inches long. This prodigy is in possession of Major Churchill, at Fort Johnston, Smithville, and was caught in a shrimp-net. The Major intends to present it to a museum.

Wilmington People's Press.

India Rubber.—The tree that produces caoutchouc, or India rubber, which was first introduced into Europe about the beginning of last century, is a native of South America and the West Indies. This substance is an elastic resin, obtained by making incisions in the stem. The juice is collected as it trickles from the wound, and moulds of clay, in the forms of little bottles, are dipped into it. A layer of this juice dries on the clay, and several layers are added till the bottle is of sufficient thickness. It is then beaten to break down the clay which is easily shaken out. The Indians make boots of caoutchouc, which are water-proof, and when smoked look like leather. The inhabitants of Quito prepare from it a kind of cloth, which they use as we do oil and sail cloth, and in the West Indies flambeaux are made of it, that burn without a wick; and are used by fishermen when they go out to fish at night.

At his residence at Laurel Hill, Richmond County, on the 9th inst. of Inflammatory Fever, TRYAM McFARLAND, Esq. in the 32d year of his age. He has left a wife and two infant children to mourn their early bereavement. Though quite a young man, yet such was the confidence which the citizens of his native County of Richmond had in him, that he was elected against strong opposition for several years to represent them in our State Legislature, first in the House of Commons and then in the Senate; the duties of which station he discharged so entirely to their satisfaction, that he secured to himself the appellation of being the most popular man in the County. He was also an active and efficient Magistrate of the County for several years. In his death, the community has sustained the loss of one of its most enterprising and useful citizens, and the neighbourhood one of its best men. To his family and friends, his loss is irreparable.—[Communicated.

For Liverpool,

THE New Live Oak and Copper fastened Ship ELIZA & SUSAN, Alexander McKown, Master, having two thirds of her cargo engaged, will be dispatched in all November. She can take on freight from 300 to 500 bales of Cotton, but will not wait for any particular quantity, as it is determined to despatch her. This Ship was built expressly for a Regular Trader to Liverpool, of the best materials and in the best manner. She is insured in New York at as low a rate as any other vessel whatever. Shippers of Cotton will have the satisfaction of knowing they can have it insured at as low a rate and on as good terms as by any other vessel from this or any other port in the U. States.

Those persons wishing to encourage a regular vessel and having Cotton to ship, have now an opportunity. Application should be made soon to Teachers Wanted.

A GENTLEMAN, well qualified to teach the Languages, Mathematics, and all the higher branches of an English education, is wanted to take charge of the Bennettsville Male Academy, for the ensuing year.

From the well known healthiness of this Village, the Trustees are decidedly of opinion, that a teacher fully competent to prepare young men for admission into college, would find the situation highly advantageous.

—Also—

A Lady to take charge of the Female Academy at the same place, who is well qualified to teach the usual branches of an English education, or such as are usually taught in Female Seminaries, together with plain and ornamental Needle Work, Painting, Drawing, &c

The Teachers will be elected on the 10th December next. Applications accompanied with testimonials of competency and good moral standing, will be addressed to the Subscriber.

Temperance Notice.

UP to this date we have received reports from only two local Societies. Should the request of the managers of the State Temperance Society, made on the 25th of August last, through their Secretary, and published in many of our newspapers, be generally overlooked, or disregarded, the utility of the Institution will of course be at an end, and a motion will probably be made at the annual meeting to be held in this place, on the 28th inst., for its discontinuance.

By order of the Managers.

Medical College of S. Carolina.

UNDER THE SUPERINTENDENCE AND PATRONAGE OF THE MEDICAL SOCIETY OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

THE TRUSTEES of this Institution inform the public that they have filled all the vacant Chairs, and that the regular course of Lectures will commence, as usual, on the 2d Monday in November.

In selecting gentlemen to become Professors in the Medical College of South Carolina, the Trustees were influenced alone by a sense of public duty. They therefore invited talent from every quarter of our widely extended country, being solicitous alone for the promotion of Medical Science, and of perpetuating a Medical School at the South. This they flatter themselves they have accomplished.

This Institution presents many advantages. It has a commodious Building, a valuable Library, a well selected and arranged Museum of Natural History and Mineralogy, an excellent Chemical Apparatus, a good Museum of Anatomy, and the newly elected Professor of that Chair will bring with him a Museum of Healthful and Morbid Anatomy, which contains upwards of 1300 Specimens, 300 Oil Paintings and Drawings, and a great number of Casts. The newly elected Professor of Obstetrics will also bring a Muscum connected with his Department not surpassed by any in the United States. Adjoining the College are two Public Institutions, viz. the Marine Hospital and Alms House, which are under the superintendence of the Medical Society and the Professors of the College, and where Clinics will be delivered by the Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic and the Professor of Surgery. The Trustees regret that the season was so far advanced before the re-organization of the College could be effected, but they thought it a duty to the State and to the City which have endowed this College, as well as to the Medical profession, to be certain of the character and attainments of the Candidates before they appointed them as Professors. The College they can now recommend as possessing advantages not surpassed by any in the United States.

The following are the Professors:—

John R. Rhinelander, M. D. Professor of Anatomy.
Thomas Y. Simons, M. D. Professor of Theory and Practice of Physic.
William Anderson, M. D. Professor of Surgery.
Andrew Hasell, M. D. Professor of Materia Medica
Charles Davis, M. D. Professor of Chemistry.
Henry Alexander, M. D. Professor of Institutes of Medicine.
G. S. Bedford, M. D. Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children.

The Trustees of the Medical College of South Carolina, consist of the following gentlemen:

FRANCIS Y. PORCHER, M. D.
E. W. NORTH, M. D.
B. B SIMONS, M. D.
JOSEPH GLOVER, M. D.
HORATIO S. WARING, M. D.
WILLIAM A. HOLMES, M. D.
